Let Thresholds help you create a beautiful, loving, and sacred event in your home...

Personalized to your desires. Thresholds will lovingly assist you with after-death care, creating sacred space with the use of materials you may provide, establishing a sincere focus for those involved, and in creating a personal and meaningful in-home ceremony. We carefully facilitate the planning of family-oriented ritual and participation.

Marcia Bowman facilitated her In-Home Funeral prior to her death.

We lovingly encourage full family involvement and participation to include: bathing of the body; dressing and placing the body in the area designated for the vigil; development and preparation of the sacred area; and nurturing those present during this time.

Of utmost importance is the participation of family and friends. Whether Facilitated or Full Service, Thresholds recognizes that the level of participation may vary. This In-Home Funeral Price List clearly defines and quantifies the level of participation anticipated or desired in your In-Home Funeral.

Return to Sacred Ritual

Sacred ritual helps us to express the heart and soul of life; it is where we all live. It is not the work of ministers and funeral directors—it is the work of close family and friends. It is the work of those who knew the person intimately, giving them active participation while giving sorrow words, gesture and meaning.
